100 Spins of Power Spins Atomic 8's

In this week's 100 spins analysis, we will be playing Power Spins Atomic 8's by Microgaming. Last week was the first of our 100 spins articles, and we took a look at Valley of the Kings by Rival Gaming. One of the things that came to light after publishing that very first 100 spins analysis, is the fact we should really establish some kind of baseline for all future 100 spin articles. So towards this end, from now on we will always play the slot we are testing at the highest coin size and with the maximum number of win lines enabled. Ok moving on.

Power Spins Atomic 8's online slot was developed by Microgaming, and was released last month. We played Power Spins Atomic 8's at All Slots Online Casino.

This particular online slot is one of the more traditional type developed by Microgaming. There is no bonus feature, it is a straight up reel play game featuring 9 win lines in standard mode, and 18 win lines in Power Spins mode (more on that below).

Our starting balance was 5,393 coins and we played with the maximum coin size of 1 across 9 win lines, which gives us a 45 coin per spin bet. However, we activated the Power Spins feature, and this raised our per spin wager to 60 coins.

Power Spins Mode

Power Spins Atomic 8's Wins

Across all 100 spins we had 70 winning spins; this is pretty incredible and makes playing this particular online slot great fun. Most of the wins were smaller wins (less than the per spin wager) and a lot of them were made up from scatter symbol wins. However, the largest win we had was 2,250 coins, and we actually hit this twice with three 8 symbols and 2 wild symbols both times. Indeed, wild symbols are one of the main features of this online slot.

Our ending balance after 100 spins of Power Spins Atomic 8's was 7,288 giving us a net profit of 1,895 coins. However, we really need to point out we were very lucky hitting two 2,000+ coin wins in 100 spins.

If you are the kind of person who enjoys good old fashion spinning reels and frequent wins over graphically intensive bonus features and inventive gameplay, then Power Spins Atomic 8's could well be the online slot for you, head over to All Slots Online Casino and check it out.
